Coronado management team creates a variety of fun activities for its residents like the egg coloring event.

Elk members, including Paul Rathjen, helped recruit the 10 Green Valley Elks who volunteered to help with the event. There were about 40 residents who participated. The group also had help from Tatiana and Elia Freeman, great-grandchildren of resident Freddie Mae Freeman, who had a wonderful time coloring eggs with their great-grandmother.

Photographer Dick Paige has an exciting exhibit of his work through May 3 at the West Center. Many of his desert photos are featured on large canvas wrap prints. A passionate hiker, Paige has spent much of his retirement years exploring and hiking the remote and rugged areas of the Southwest. He's captured many of those images in his photos on display.
